

Now & Next™ online

Learn how to set goals and reach them through this innovative program delivered by parents. These programs are free to families without NDIS funding

Now & Next™ is an innovative, award winning online program for all parents, carers and grandparents of children who have a delay in their development or have a disability. As parents or carers, you will make the biggest difference in your child's life. Now & Next™ gives you the practical skills to do this.

This 8-week evidence-based program delivered via video conference, will provide you with the tools to achieve positive outcomes for your child and your whole family.

Facilitated by parents like you

Now & Next™ is facilitated by trained and knowledgeable parents who are Peer Workers. Peer Workers all have children with a disability or development delay like yourself – they have a lived, personal experience – who are trained and employed to support parents and families who face similar challenges. Every peer worker has graduated from the Now & Next™ Facilitator Training program. It is the first 'by families, for families' program of its kind – with close to 500 alumni in Australia, New Zealand, Canada and Finland.

Internationally acclaimed

This unique program is internationally recognised as ground breaking. Based on principles of adult learning, it was developed using the evidence on positive psychology, family leadership, gamification and family-centred practice.

Using tools specifically designed for the program, participants choose outcomes and work towards them with new clarity and purpose.

'I feel extremely fortunate to be a part of the Now & Next program. I am not exaggerating when I say it has been a life changing experience. Each session has been informative and covered a wide range of topics – not just on goal planning. The facilitators are amazing; they are positive and supportive and their knowledge is invaluable. I don't want the program to end because it has been such an enjoyable experience.'
